What better way to fight January winter blues than by getting together with others to play a lively game of UNO!?

If you're not familiar with Uno, it's fun, but super easy to learn, so come join the fun. The more the merrier! To entice you to go out on a cold evening, we'll have some warm drinks to share, and friendly company.

Note: If you have an Uno game, please bring it to make sure we have enough for everyone!

If this goes well, maybe we can make this a monthly event featuring other games too!

Wednesday Coffee Shop Chats

Yes! Our Wednesday Park Chats continue - though warm and toasty inside Barnes and Noble at Har Mar. As the group grows we just pull over more tables and chairs to make a space for everyone.

We'll be there starting at 10 and some are usually still talking at noon. Come join us!

52 Cups of Coffee for Kathy

Along the lines of chatting and coffee, a long time ago I heard of a woman who made it her mission to have coffee with 52 new people in a year. The idea stuck with me and as we try to make up for lost connections from the pandemic, I decided I want to try it this year!

When I googled it, I found a book on her experience! Here is a description from Amazon:

When Megan Gebhart graduated college in 2011, she knew she couldn't resign herself to life at an aimless 9-to-5 job climbing the corporate ladder. So instead, she challenged herself to have a single cup of coffee with a different person every week for a year to see what lessons she could learn about life and careers. What started out as a strange, unconventional, and slightly awkward experiment soon transformed into a year filled with adventure, hardship, courage, and personal growth. Whether she's grabbing a grande coffee with a former Starbucks' Vice President, discussing recess politics with a first grader, or debating talent with the co-founder of Apple, Megan's enthusiasm and empathy coax the best advice from every walk of life. As a whole, 52 Cups of Coffee chronicles one young woman's daring and heartfelt first foray into life after college. Separately, each cup delivers a daily dose of inspiration—a perfect pairing for a morning cup of joe.

Maybe you'd like to try this for the new year too?? Too much? Maybe do it once a month? Or maybe try it one time? In my experience no one says No to a little coffee meeting :) To get you started here's a list of locally owned coffee shops/bakeries:

Grateful Table	2804 Fairview Ave N.
Keys Café and Bakery	1692 Lexington Ave N.
Makwa Coffee	2805 Hamline Ave. N
Mi Sant	1881 MN-36

The City of Roseville has begun a Community Visioning Project called "Envision Roseville".

A community vision is an aspirational guide or blueprint for the city. It provides the "north star" or overall basis for important community decisions in areas like transportation and infrastructure, housing and neighborhood development, safety and security, schools and education, and more.

The intent of the Envision Roseville project is to collaborate with community members to co-create a community vision, aspirations, and related outcomes. The information you provide will be considered, along with the input provided by others in the community, to develop a vision that reflects the values of Roseville. In later phases of the project, we will share a summary of the community input collected and explain how that information was used to inform the process.
